poi·ema
WORKMANSHIP.

OneStep Mail

As another module in our OneStep line, OneStep Mail can save you a tremendous amount of needless shuffling. Simply designate an email recipient from your existing Titan™, Varnet™, and MXP™ report menu and your report is delivered--without your need to intervene. Let OneStep Mail handle formatting and delivery while you get on with more important business. Please contact us for ordering information.

Simply select a pre-configured "printer" and be prompted for mail details. Your regular output (from any standard report) is sent via email automatically by OneStep Mail:

Key features:
- Seamless integration with Titan™ and MXP™
- No added steps or new processes to learn -- just specify email functdef information (to, from, etc.) and send
- Deliver to any valid email address with the speed of TCP/IP
- Send as an attachment, or choose to send in the body of the message
- Built with the Progress 4GL™
- Save time and resources while streamlining your processes

Customer comments:
"Every day we send reports to sales reps via e-mail. It works great!"
"Our purchasing department can easily send past-due purchase orders to our vendors. What a difference this makes in communication."

Screen Shot:

```
┌─────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────┐
│ ▣      1.1.1.1 - SCO TermLite                                      _ □ ×      │
├─────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────────┤
│ Connect  Edit  Configure  Help                                               │
│              ┌──────── Quantity On Hand -- Sample .csv ────────┐            │
│              │                                                   │            │
│              │              As-of date: 03/23/01                 │            │
│              │        Parameter Output: Trash                    │            │
│              │           Report Output: mail                     │            │
│              │                    Memo: Please forward printout to demo      │
│              └───────────────────────────────────────────────────┘            │
│              ┌──────────── OneStep Mail Parameters ────────────┐             │
│              │                                                   │             │
│  Recipient(s): fred@tri-8.com                                                 │
│       Subject: Quantity On Hand -- Sample .csv on 03/23/2001 at 11:09:01      │
│   Carbon Copy:                                                                │
│    Blind Copy:                                                                │
│     File Name: qoh       Application: excel    Compress: No                   │
│                                                                               │
│          Memo: Fred,                                                          │
│                                                                               │
│                Here's our latest QOH report.  Let me know if you have any     │ │                questions.                                                     │
│                        James                                                  │
│              └───────────────────────────────────────────────────┘             │
│                                                                               │
├──────────────┬─────────────┬──────────────┬─────────────────────────────────┤
│ 20:036       │             │ NO PRN       │ REPLACE                         │
└──────────────┴─────────────┴──────────────┴─────────────────────────────────┘
```